

Warranty

The factory warranty is valid for a twelve months period from the invoice date and it's extended to all components which might be considered defective from the origin. Our distributors are requested to hold the defective parts available at least for a 3 months period during which Mareno Ali S.p.A. reserves the right either to request them to run a quality test / analysis in the factory laboratory (we do request a freight document including invoice no. and serial no. of the appliance whom the same defective parts refer to) or to inspect them directly by the dealer/end user. The warranty doesn't include components like knobs, mobile plastic parts, bulb lights, glass parts, accessories and what is external to the appliance.

The warranty doesn't cover damages incurred during the transportation, faulty installation, incorrect use of the appliances, tampering made by not authorised personnel and any other reason which is not depending from Mareno Ali Spa.

The warranty doesn't cover labour costs and any other cost connected to the substitution of faulty parts. The warranty doesn't include, in any case, the substitution of the appliance.

The warranty has only validity towards the direct buyer and can't be requested by third parties.
